Golf Brno Kaskáda

The British architect Jonathan Gaunt's design gives this 27-hole course a remarkable appearance. Artificial lakes and pools that ingeniously cascade, countless numbers of mounds and rolling terrain, vast and diverse greens - all this combines to form a golf resort located less than nine kilometres from the Moravian city of Brno. The course offers three separate nines – Stone, Wooden and Iron. The Stone nine is the most physically demanding of the three, it will have you play literally up and down hill until you reach the highest point on the course where you will be rewarded by an amazing view. The Wooden nine is a bit less diverse, and even though you will mostly play along the contour lines, you will not be entirely spared from climbing. With one exception, the Iron nine provides no elevation changes. It is quite enjoyable that all three nines can be freely combined, allowing you to play a different eighteen every day.

Signature Hole Hole 9, Par 4 Wooden Nine

The oval tee boxes along a rocky brook lined by ancient apple trees create a very romantic atmosphere, especially in spring. The second shot holds the key to this hole. The green is squeezed between two lakes and there is a large bunker behind it. So, have you made up your mind yet? Will you take the risk of hitting a long daring shot right onto the green or rather use a well-placed shot to put yourself in a good position for a safe approach and settle for five strokes?
